

Mentors

KEVIN O'DONNELL

Kevin O'Donnell lives in suburban Chicago. He retired in 2005 as a Principle Packaging Engineer after a 26-year career at Abbott Laboratories and is now employed as Technical Director at ThermoSafe Brands; a company specializing in insulated packaging solutions for temperature-sensitive drug products.

Kevin's contributions to industry are widely recognized and go back more than 25 years. He is well respected as an advocate, author, blogger, educator, training developer, and champion of good distribution practices for temperature-sensitive drugs.

Kevin's involvement with industry spans such organizations as the International Air Transport Association, the World Health Organization, the United States Pharmacopeia, Transport Canada, and the Parenteral Drug Association. He is a frequent presenter at industry conferences and has published countless articles on the topic of cold chain management.

"When it comes to drug quality," Kevin states, "there can be no compromises. That's why I am so passionate about the work I do."
